Message from the President of Eduniversal

From its creation, the essence of Eduniversal is its universality reflected not only in the brand name of our company, but also because it became an international academic and political success.

Since 1994 the Eduniversal Group, with its headquarter in Paris (France), has expanded its activities to complete the historical expertise of the Eduniversal International Ranking Agency by accompanying the students from their academic background to their professional career.

The Eduniversal's mission is to provide an in-depth view on academic expertise worldwide to all stakeholders of higher education, with the goal of actively supporting international exchanges between schools, encouraging mobility for professors and students and assisting HR professionals to identify specialized talents.

Its primary purpose since 2008 is to assist the students from more than 200 countries, from undergraduate to postgraduate studies and through every stage of their career pursuit.

Moreover, Eduniversal provides useful tools and reliable expertise for a whole generation of students, regardless of nationality, income level or background in order to enable them to select the best academic institutions in 154 countries (www.eduniversal-ranking.com) and/or the best postgraduate programs (Masters, MSc, MBAs) in 30 fields of study worldwide (www.best-masters.com).

Launched in 2011, www.best-masters. com has already been used by more than 3 million students from 200 countries all over the world, to navigate the best global educational opportunities and to make the right personal choices, from selecting an academic institution through choosing a career.

The criterion that distinguishes the Eduniversal Business Schools Ranking (www.eduniversal-ranking.com) from most of the international classification systems is the Annual Deans' Vote Survey. This year, the participation rate of the Deans in the 2014 survey has reached 62% (which includes more than 80% of the nationalities from 154 countries represented in the Eduniversal Official Selection).

May the upcoming year continue to expand the horizons for all the stakeholders in their pursuit of truly excellent education!

Sincerely,

Martial GUIETTE CEO & Founder

Methodology

The Eduniversal Evaluation System (EES)

The Eduniversal Evaluation System (EES) includes the ranking and rating of two separate categories with two separate methodologies: first, the top 1000 global business schools, and second, the top 4000 Masters and MBA programs, both selected from 9 geographical zones and 154 countries.

The EES was created under the supervision of the International Scientific Committee composed of 9 independent expert members in each of the 9 geographical zones.

For more information about the International Scientific Committee, please visit: http://www.eduniversal-ranking.com/methodology/committee

1 Methodology of the 1000 Business Schools Ranking – A 3-Steps process

Methodology – The Official Selection of the Best 1,000 Business Schools

The methodology behind the selection of the 1,000 Business Schools to be ranked was created by the Eduniversal International Scientific Committee in 2007. Their objective was to establish a global mapping system that would take into account the international influence and reputation of each academic institution.

For the ranking of top 1000 business schools, the system determines, from thousands of different

Business Schools, which 1,000 will be selected for the ranking. These schools are then classified in each country by Palmes of Excellence according to a set of criteria designed to determine a school's international influence, reputation and quality.

After the Palme of Excellence classification (from 1 to 5) has been set, an international Deans Vote determines the rank within each Palme category.

The final ranking shows, within each Palme category, the best business schools in each country.

The Eduniversal ranking highlights the best academic opportunities for students around the world in these 9 zones:

- Africa
- Central Asia
- Western Europe
- North AmericaOceania
- Far East Asia - Latin America
  - Eastern Europe
- Eurasia & the Middle East

The number of schools selected to take part in the ranking, from each of the 154 countries, is determined according to a quota method using both quantitative and qualitative criteria.

The quantitative criteria includes:

- the national expenditure on education per inhabitant
- `- the GDP per inhabitant
- the size of the population
- the number of students in higher education

The qualitative criteria includes:

- the number of graduate academic institutions in the country
- the historical importance of the national educational tradition.

Example of the data taken into consideration, according to the method of quotas, in the determination of the number of schools per country in the Eduniversal Official Selection:

▶ Country	National Expenditure on education per inhabitant	GDP per inhabitant	Population size in million	Number of students in Higher Education	Schools Quota results

Evolution of the Eduniversal offical selection of the Best Business School

The list is reviewed, taking into account the evolution of the business education in each country, by the Eduniversal International Scientific Committee every year. Schools that have not benefited from any Dean's recommendation (=0%), merged with other academic institutions or stopped their academic activity are deleted from the list. Schools that wish to enter the Eduniversal Official Selection should apply for the evaluation process and fill out the evaluation form. Participation is free of charge.

Methodology - Eduniversal Rating : Palmes of Excellence

The Eduniversal system rates schools according to the international reputation of a school at national and global levels, and by geographical zone. After the 1,000 best business schools in 154 countries have been selected, they are divided within each country into one of the five Palme leagues.

Eduniversal Evaluation System (EES): a 3-step process to establish a Business Schools ranking in each of the 154 countries

There are five leagues of Palmes of Excellence. A Palme level is awarded to each school based on a set of internationalization criteria developed by the International Scientific Committee. These schools are then ranked within each Palme level according to the assessment made by peers: The Deans vote.

The Internationalization criteria includes:

- Accreditations
- Major rankings of business schools;
- Membership in international and national academic associations

Division of the schools into the five Palme of Excellence leagues allows for a horizontal comparison within 9 zones, which is different from the vertical comparison established by most of the international ranking systems. The Eduniversal Ranking System does not compare, for example, schools in one country to another country. Rather, it simply ranks the best schools within each country and within each Palme league.

The Palme leagues are divided as followed:
*	Universal Business School with strong global influence
	Top Business School with significant international influence
	Excellent Business School with reinforcing international influence
	Good Business School with strong regional influence
8	Business School with considerable local influence

League changes

Upwards:

The process for changing a school's Palmes League can be initiated either:

- by the Eduniversal Evaluation System (EES), through analysis of the Deans' Vote results, for example if a school with 4 Palmes gets a significantly
- increased number of votes over a number of years and shows a positive difference between it and the schools listed before and behind it.
- by a school itself which considers that it has sufficient reasons to change to a higher Palmes league. If a school has undergone, or is undergoing, significant changes (international and national accreditations, recognitions and distinctions, major developments and acquisition of new entities, institutes, high calibre projects for innovation, etc. ), this school can submit a request by presenting its case to the International Scientific Committee. The Scientific Committee will assess the file with respect to all the criteria that lead to the award of Palmes.

Stages of the re-evaluation process:

The request file for promotion to the league above should be completed and sent along with the scanned copies of the official documents to : international.coordinator@ eduniversal.com

It will be transferred to the member of the Scientific Committee (ISC) for the geographical zone of the School candidate and to the Board of Directors of Eduniversal.

If request is approved, it will then be submitted for further approval by the rest of the ISC.

School candidate will receive a reply regarding the outcome following the next Eduniversal World Convention. In the case of refusal, the ISC will explain the grounds for refusal and convey its recommendations for that school's future candidacy.

The re-evaluation process is free of charge.

Downwards:

The International Scientific Committee studies proposals for relegation put forward by one of the executive members of the Scientific Committee on the basis of the results of the Deans' vote during the preceding year.

http://www.eduniversal-ranking.com/methodology/dean

4 Methodology - Eduniversal Ranking: Deans' Vote

The Deans' Vote is the final element to the ranking system which determines the rank of a school within each Palme league. All schools included in the Official Selection are reviewed by their academic peers (from the 1,000 schools selected) and a maximum of 50% of the schools in each country can be included in the vote.

Each Dean or Director (only one vote per institution) assesses the schools in each country. Each Dean has the opportunity to submit a vote for schools in each of the geographical zones with which they are familiar. These votes are treated with utmost confidentiality.

Each year, the ranking of the top 1,000 business schools changes according to the results of the Deans' Vote. This vote determines the recommendation score and ranking order of schools within each country and in each Palme league.

The annual results are disclosed during the Eduniversal World Convention and published on www.eduniversal-ranking.com

Eduniversal Awards Ceremonies

Since 2007, the Eduniversal Evaluation System (EES) has been ranking business schools according to their international influence and reputation on both national and global levels, and by geographical zone.

Every year during the Eduniversal World Convention, the new Ranking of the Best 1,000 Business Schools in 154 countries is announced. Each year the ranking is determined through the voting of international deans (Eduniversal Deans' Vote Survey) along with the information provided by schools.

During the Eduniversal World Convention, 2 ceremonies are scheduled in celebration of the Best Business Schools achievements.

Eduniversal Awards for the Top Business Schools

The Awards Ceremony highlights the Top 3 Business Schools from each of 9 geographical zones that received the highest recommendation rates from the Deans and Directors who participated in the annual Eduniversal Deans' Vote.

Eduniversal Deans' Vote Survey

The Deans Vote is the criterion that distinguishes Eduniversal's Ranking and Rating methodology of the Best 1,000 Business Schools from most of the international classification systems.

The Business Schools selected in the Eduniversal Official Selection are evaluated and recommended by their academic Peers from 154 countries.

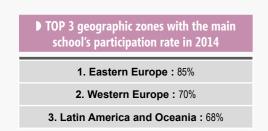

The aim of this Rating is to add a component of Peers assessment considered as one of the numerous qualitative and quantitative criteria used in the Eduniversal's methodology.

On behalf of their respective academic institutions, each Dean is asked to highlight among the 999 other institutions, the one(s) they would suggest to students, planning to study abroad and answer the question: "What are the business schools you would recommend to a student who is looking to study in this country?"

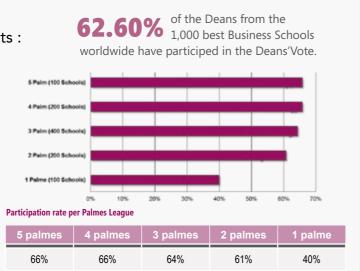

The Deans' Votes generate the schools' recommendation rate which results are disclosed during the Eduniversal World Convention with the annual ratings and rankings by country and published on www.eduniversal-ranking.com

▶ Key facts about

the 2014 Eduniversal Deans' Vote Results:

Oceania and Latin America have recorded the highest Deans' participation in the 2014 survey.

Voting process on

www.eduniversal-deans-vote.com:

Once a year, the deans & directors of the 1,000 Business Schools included in the Eduniversal Official Selection are invited to participate in the Eduniversal Deans Vote.

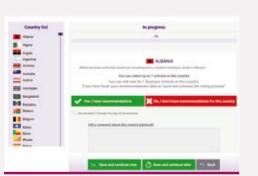

The vote starts every year in November and each dean/director receives his login information granting access to the voting platform

A few simples rules to know on beforehand:

- The dean/ director is the only person allowed to report the votes on behalf of his/her Institution with his personal access.
- · Countries are presented in alphabetical order.
- Your country will be the last one in the list (after Zimbabwe).
- You can select up to 50% of the institutions for each country.
- If you don't know or if you don't want to recommend any school in a country, select "no, I don't have recommendation for this country" and the next country will appear on the screen.
- Your own Institution will not appear in the list of your country, as the Dean is not allowed to vote for his own Institution.
- Your votes are considered once the 154 countries of the Eduniversal System have been examined.
