Message from the President of Eduniversal

For more than two decades Eduniversal has been a leading force for the promotion of higher education. From our humble beginnings in France, to this, the ninth Eduniversal World Convention, I am honoured to welcome you to Perth, Australia.

We have now held this annual gathering in every imaginable corner of the world, from Europe, the Middle East and Africa, to Central Asia, the Far East and the Americas. And with our increased international presence comes a heightened sense of responsibility. Our ambition remains to provide the most promising talent with the best academic opportunities the institutions who have placed so much trust in us over the years, have to offer.

We continue to strive to achieve our mission of rating and ranking those educators that merit Eduniversal's label of excellence the most. Our 2016 Business School Ranking, which will be made known over the coming days in Perth, relies in part on the opinions of deans and directors from institutions in 154 countries. We therefore rely upon you and your expertise to help us create what we think is the best form of guidance for students looking to build their careers.

Over the last year Eduniversal has truly become a digital innovator in the field of online student recruitment thanks to our platform Mastersbooking.com. We have democratized the application procedure for prospective students around the world and facilitated the admissions process for universities by creating a unique one-stop portal that allows both parties to connect and benefit mutually from the platform.

During the next four days you will be invited to share your opinions, forecast trends and discuss the future of higher education, as well as share best practices and create new academic partnerships with some the world's top tier universities and business schools.

I wish you all a successful convention and look forward to the next chapter of our collaboration.

Yours sincerely, ~

Methodology

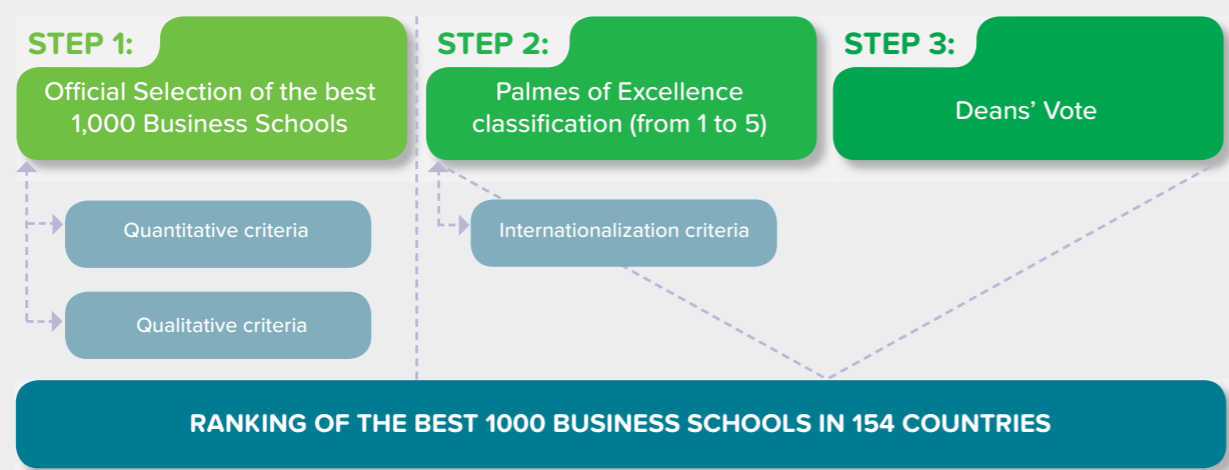

The Eduniversal Evaluation System (EES)

The Eduniversal Evaluation System (EES) involves the ranking and rating of two separate categories with two separate methodologies: first, the top 1000 global business schools, and second, the top 4000 Masters and MBA programs, both selected from 154 countries in 9 geographical zones.

The EES was created under the guidance of the International Scientific Committee composed of 9 independent expert members from each of the 9 geographical zones.

For more information about the International Scientific Committee, please visit: <http://www.eduniversal-ranking.com/methodology/committee>

1 Methodology of the 1000 Best Business Schools Ranking – A 3-step process

2 Methodology – The Official Selection of the 1000 Best Business Schools

The methodology behind the selection of the 1000 Best Business Schools was created by the Eduniversal International Scientific Committee in 2007. Their objective was to establish a global mapping system that would take into account the international influence and reputation of each academic institution.

For the ranking of the top 1000 business schools, the system determines, from thousands of different business schools, which 1000 will be selected for the ranking. These schools are then classified in each country by Palmes of Excellence according to a set of criteria designed to determine a school's international influence, reputation and quality.

After the Palme of Excellence classification (from 1 to 5) has been set, an international Deans Vote determines the rank within each Palme category. ■■■

■■■ The final ranking shows, within each Palme category, the best business schools in each country.

The Eduniversal ranking highlights the best academic opportunities for students around the world in these 9 zones:

- Africa
- Western Europe
- Far East Asia
- Latin America
- Eurasia & the Middle East
- Central Asia
- North America
- Oceania
- Eastern Europe

The number of schools selected to take part in the ranking, from each of the 154 countries, is determined according to a quota method using both quantitative and qualitative criteria.

The quantitative criteria includes:

- the national expenditure on education per inhabitant
- the GDP per inhabitant
- the size of the population
- the number of students in higher education

The qualitative criteria includes:

- the number of graduate academic institutions in the country
- the historical importance of the national educational tradition.

Below is an example of the data taken into consideration, according to the quota method, in the determination of the number of schools per country in the Eduniversal Official Selection:

Country	National Expenditure on education per inhabitant	GDP per inhabitant	Population size in million	Number of students in Higher Education	Schools Quota results
USA	$2,851.20	$ 52,800	317	19,600,000	153
India	$128	$ 4,000	1,210	28,560,000	50
China	$421.40	$ 9,800	1,347	24,000,000	54
UK	$2,312.60	$ 37,300	62	2,340,275	50
Mexico	$811.20	$ 15,600	112	1,481,999	16
Poland	$1,097.20	$ 21,100	38	2,146,926	12
Netherlands	$2,442.60	$ 41,400	16	546,400	12
Turkey	$397.80	$ 15,300	74	877,000	8
Tunisia	$613.80	$ 9,900	10	365,000	4
Australia	$2408	$ 43,000	22	1,200,000	35
Indonesia	$145.6	$ 5,200	237	4,200,000	7
Russia	$705.9	$ 18,100	143	9,330,115	19

Evolution of the Eduniversal official selection of the Best Business School

The list is then reviewed, taking into account the evolution of business education in each country, by Eduniversal's International Scientific Committee every year. Schools that have not been voted for by a Dean (=0%), or have merged with another academic institution, or have ceased their academic activity, are excluded from the list.

Schools that wish to enter Eduniversal's Official Selection should apply for the evaluation process and fill out the evaluation form. Participation is free of charge.

3 Methodology – Eduniversal Rating : Palmes of Excellence

The Eduniversal system rates schools according to their international reputation at the national and international level, as well as by geographical zone. Once the 1000 best business schools in the 154 countries have been selected, they are divided within each country into one of five Palme leagues.

Eduniversal Evaluation System (EES): a 3-step process to establish a Business School ranking in each of the 154 countries

There are five levels of Palmes of Excellence. A Palme level is awarded to each school based on a set of internationalization criteria developed by the International Scientific Committee. These schools are then ranked within each Palmes of Excellence level according to the peer-led Dean's Vote.

The Internationalization criteria includes:

- Accreditations
- Major rankings of business schools
- Membership in international and national academic associations

Division of the schools into the five Palmes of Excellence leagues allows for a horizontal comparison within the 9 geographical zones, which is different from the vertical comparison established by most other international ranking systems. The Eduniversal Ranking System does not compare, for example, schools in one country to another country. Rather, it simply ranks the best schools within each country and within each Palme league.

The Palme leagues are divided as followed:

100 schools in the 5 Palmes league		Universal Business School with strong global influence
200 schools in the 4 Palmes league		Top Business School with significant international influence
400 schools in the 3 Palmes league		Excellent Business School with reinforcing international influence
200 schools in the 2 Palmes league		Good Business School with strong regional influence
100 schools in the 1 Palme league		Business School with considerable local influence

League changes

Promotion:

The process for changing a school's Palmes League can be initiated either:

- by the Eduniversal Evaluation System (EES), through analysis of the Dean's Vote results. For example if a school with 4 Palmes gets a significantly increased number of votes over a number of years and shows a positive difference between it and the schools listed before and behind it.

- by a school itself which considers that it has sufficient reasons to change to a higher Palmes league. If a school has undergone, or is undergoing, significant changes (international and national accreditations, recognitions and distinctions, major developments and acquisition of new entities, institutes, high calibre projects for innovation, etc.), this school can submit a request by presenting its case to the International Scientific Committee. The Scientific Committee will assess the application with respect to all the criteria that leads to the awarding of Palmes.

Stages of the re-evaluation process:

The request for promotion to a superior league should be completed and sent along with the scanned copies of the official required documents to : international_coordinator@eduniversal.com

It will be transferred to the relevant member of the International Scientific Committee (ISC) in the same geographical zone as the school as well as to Eduniversal's Board of Directors.

If the request is approved, it will then be submitted for further approval by the rest of the ISC.

Candidate schools will receive a reply regarding the outcome following the next Eduniversal World Convention. In the case of refusal, the ISC will explain the grounds for refusal and convey its recommendations for that school's future candidacy.

The re-evaluation process is free of charge.

Relegation:

The ISC studies proposals for relegation put forward by one of its executive members on the basis of the results of the Deans' Vote during the preceding year.

<http://www.eduniversal-ranking.com/methodology/dean>

4 Methodology – Eduniversal Ranking : Dean's Vote

The Dean's Vote is the final element of the ranking system which determines the rank of a school within each Palme league. All schools included in the Official Selection are reviewed by their academic peers (from the 1000 schools selected) and a maximum of 50% of the schools in each country can be included in the vote.

Each Dean or Director (only one vote per institution is permitted) assesses the schools in each country. Each Dean has the opportunity to submit a vote for schools in each of the geographical zones with which they are familiar. The votes are treated with utmost confidentiality.

Each year, the ranking of the top 1000 business schools changes according to the results of the Dean's Vote. This vote determines the recommendation score and ranking order of schools within each country and in each Palme league.

The annual results are disclosed during the Eduniversal World Convention and published on www.eduniversal-ranking.com

Eduniversal Awards Ceremonies

The Eduniversal Evaluation System (EES) has been in use since 2007 to rank business schools according to their international influence and reputation on both the national and international level, as well as by geographical zone.

Every year during the Eduniversal World Convention, a new ranking of the 1000 Best Business Schools across 154 countries is announced. Each year the ranking is determined through votes cast by international deans (Eduniversal Dean's Vote Survey) along with the information provided by schools.

During the Eduniversal World Convention, two ceremonies are held to award the achievements of the Best Business Schools.

The Dean's Vote is the criterion that distinguishes Eduniversal's Ranking and Rating methodology of the 1000 Best Business Schools from most other international classification systems.

The business schools featured in the Eduniversal Official Selection are evaluated and recommended by their academic peers in 154 countries.

The aim of this rating is to add a component of peer assessment, one of several qualitative and quantitative criteria used in Eduniversal's methodology.

On behalf of their respective academic institutions, each Dean is asked to highlight among the 999 other institutions, the one(s) they would suggest to students who are planning to study abroad and answer the question: "Which business schools would you recommend to a student who is looking to study in this country?"

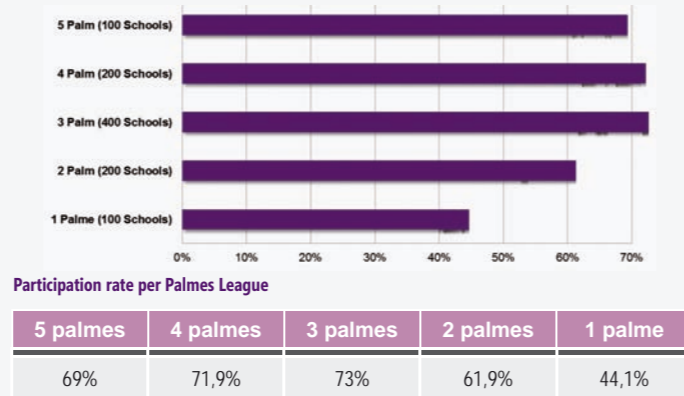

The Dean's Vote generate the schools' recommendation rate, the results of which are disclosed during the Eduniversal World Convention with the annual ratings and rankings by country and published on www.eduniversal-ranking.com

► Voting process on www.eduniversal-deans-vote.com :

Once a year, the Deans and Directors of the 1000 Best Business Schools included in the Eduniversal Official Selection are invited to participate in the Eduniversal Dean's Vote.

The voting begins every year in November and each Dean or Director receives their login information granting access to the voting platform.

A few simple rules to know beforehand:

- The Dean/ Director is the only person allowed to report the votes on behalf of his/ her institution via their personal access
- Countries are presented in alphabetical order
- Your country will be the last one in the list (after Zimbabwe)
- You can select up to 50% of the institutions for each country
- If you don't know or if you don't want to recommend any school in a country, select "No, I don't have a recommendation for this country" and the next country will appear on the screen
- Your own institution will not appear in the list for your country, as the Dean is not allowed to vote for their own institution
- Your votes are cast once the 154 countries of the Eduniversal System have been examined.

For information/ requests about the Dean's Vote, please contact: international.coordinator@eduniversal.com

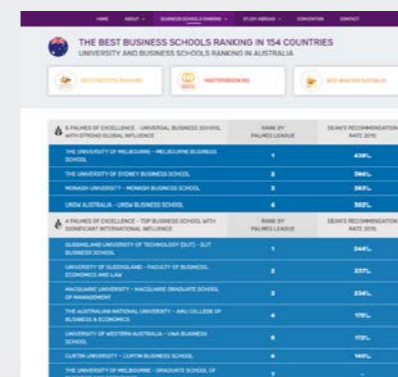

IMPORTANT REMINDER : The 2016/2017 Eduniversal Dean's Vote Survey will start in December 2016/January 2017
