WHO ARE WE?

EEA - The Eduniversal Evaluation Agency for Higher Education

1994

Eduniversal, formerly known as "SMBG", was founded as a French consultancy and coaching company specializing in higher education. The firm's consultants aimed to support students in their selection of academic and professional pursuits, as well as to aid them in getting into their selected programs.

2007

SMBG changed its name to Eduniversal with a vision to further develop its expertise in higher education on a global scale. The idea of creating a "Global Federation of Education" was born with the support of an International Scientific Committee, made up of 9 influential members from different worlds' regions. Their commitment allowed Eduniversal to publish its first selection of the best 1,000 Business Schools worldwide. Since then, this selection is reviewed every year and revealed during the agency's flagship event; the Eduniversal World Convention. It is available on www.eduniversal-ranking.com.

2017

Eduniversal Official Selection of the Best 1,000 Business Schools worldwide celebrated its 10th anniversary. While the 1,000 Best Business Schools worldwide are still awarded by way of the Palmes d'Excellence and are still celebrated during the Eduniversal World Convention, a new categorization has entered the Eduniversal system: the Eduniversal Selected Schools list. This list aims to highlight promising institutions on the four corners of the globe.

2002

After years of industry experience, the team realized the need for students and companies to find the best available programs; as well as the willingness in the higher education community to promote their expertise. This pushed the idea to publish a ranking of the best academic programs in France, based on the programs' qualities rather than on institutions' reputations. The French best Masters, MS and MBA was first published, and since, millions of students have used the rankings to find their dream programs. This success helped the team launch a French ranking system for Licenses, Bachelors and Grandes Ecoles in 2009, to aid high schools' graduates and young students.

2011

Eduniversal further expands its global reach by introducing its first international ranking of Post-Graduate programs, listing the Best Masters and MBAs programs in 154 countries. This ranking is reviewed and improved every year and is available on www.best-masters.com.

ISC - The Eduniversal International Scientific Committee

Composed of 11 members, (2 Eduniversal executive members and 9 independent experts in global higher education), the Eduniversal International Scientific Committee has several missions:

- The ISC is responsible for the Official Selection of the Best 1,000 Business Schools throughout the world; and for the Eduniversal Selected Schools lists.
- The ISC coordinates the Deans' Vote survey, one of the three main steps used to finalize the annual ranking of the best business schools in over 154 countries.
- The ISC oversees the Eduniversal rankings' methodologies and performs subsequent verifications in relations to the results.
- The ISC brings forward ideas to improve the methods employed.
- The ISC recommends changes to increase the relevance of criteria used.
- The ISC suggests developments that would be beneficial to the rankings and methodologies.

Each of the nine members of the ISC represents one of the nine zones covered by Eduniversal, as each of them have significant experience in the academic world and within their zone.

The ISC takes decisions unanimously. They meet twice a year.

All the nine expert members are experienced and prominent personalities in the academic field of their geographical zone.

Focus: The Eduniversal Palmes of Excellence Trophies

Inside the Eduniversal Ranking of the Best 1,000 Business Schools, schools are categorized by country into one of the five Palmes of Excellence leagues. These five levels are defined by a set of internationalization criteria developed by the International Scientific Committee :

- Major accreditations
- Major rankings
- Memberships to national and international academic associations

www.eduniversal-ranking.com

During the Eduniversal World Convention, the Palmes of Excellence Trophies ceremony highlights each ranked schools. Each will receive an official trophy that indicates the Palmes of Excellence League that they have been ranked inside of the new Eduniversal Best Business Schools annual ranking.

Groupe ISM (Senegal)

Grenoble Ecole de Management (France)

Buenos Aires Business School (Argentina)

FPT School of Business (Vietnam)

EMAS Business School (Russia)

Do you think your institution deserves a Palmes of Excellence League's revision?

Institutions that have undergone significant progressions such as new accreditations, major institutional development, and innovative projects can submit a request to present their new cases and improvements to the International Scientific Committee.

By using the Palmes of Excellence methodology criteria and looking at your Deans' Vote result (see p. 17), the ISC's members will assess the application. The institution will then be informed about their decision at the next edition of the Eduniversal World Convention. This process is entirely free of charge.

Our Rankings and Methodologies

Three Programs Rankings

● Two French Programs Rankings:

The first concerns undergraduate French Best Licenses, Bachelors and Grandes Ecoles. It concerns 52 different fields of study. Nearly 550 programs have been ranked this year.

www.meilleures-licences.com
www.meilleures-grandes-ecoles.com

• Next publication – December, 2018

The second concerns postgraduate French Best Masters & MBA. It concerns 75 different fields of study and nearly 950 programs have been ranked for 2018.

www.meilleurs-masters.com

• Next publication – February, 2019

● One Global Program Ranking:

Eduniversal annually publishes an international programs ranking, reserved to institutions ranked and selected by the Eduniversal Evaluation System.

www.best-masters.com

• Next publication – March, 2019

This ranking covers 9 geographical zones and 154 countries. It proposes 50 different fields of study; and the ranking for these fields can be regional or global. For 2018, more than 5,000 programs have been ranked.

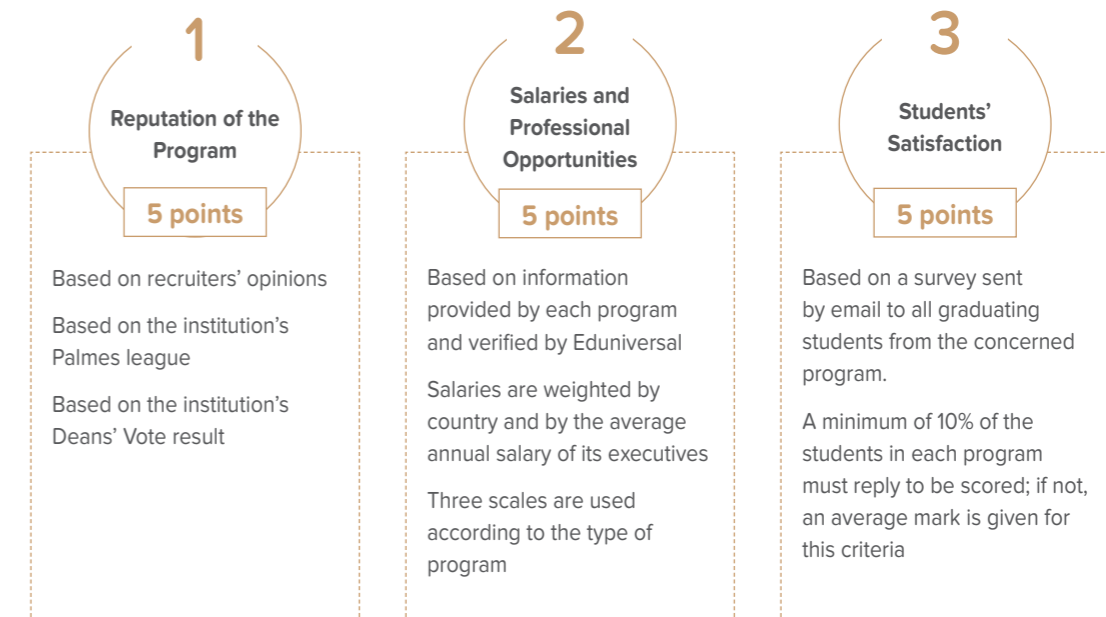

These three rankings measure a program's level of expertise, its ability to educate, as well as their ability to offer professional opportunities to its students or to provide them with proper conditions to pursue further education. They also consider students' feedbacks. Following a clear methodology, there are tools for all actors involved in the Higher Education sector.

● Programs' Ranking Methodology and Evaluation Criteria:

The three Eduniversal programs rankings are established following a strict established methodology with three main sets of criteria and bonus points:

Eduniversal Programs' Rankings Methodology

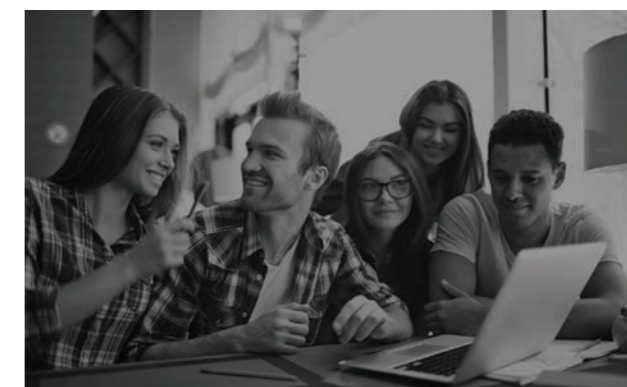

Bonus Points

Various bonus points are added to these sets of criteria to consider programs' diversity, innovations and attractivity, as for example:

- Programs with several nationalities registered in its programs
- Programs which enable at least 20% of their graduates to do an internship or to work abroad
- Programs admitting students with work experience
- Programs which offer Distance Learning
- Programs which favor entrepreneurship
- Programs representing an Alumni network
- ... *

(* you could see specific features of each programs' ranking on their dedicated websites)

By adding points from the three main criteria as well as bonus points obtained, each program is given a final score. Programs are ranked according to their final score; each will contain a rate and a star(s) number to indicate their place in the rankings.

One Best Business Schools Ranking

The Official Selection of the Best 1,000 Business Schools was created under the guidance of the International Scientific Committee in 2007.

Since then, this institutions' ranking is updated every year thanks to the ISC members' work: new institutions can enter the Official Selection, others can leave as well; and some can be upgraded or downgraded from their current level of Palmes of Excellence.

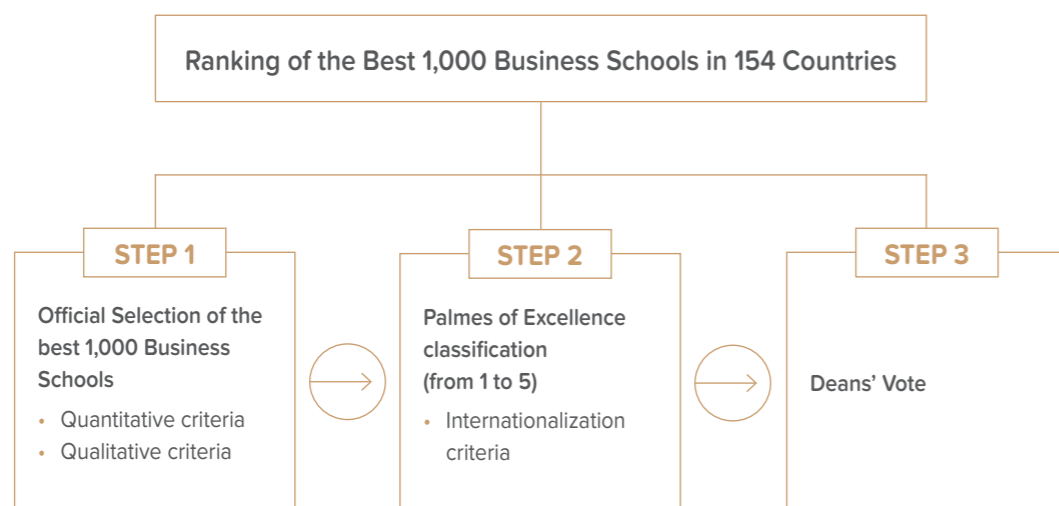

www.eduniversal-ranking.com

- Next publication – During the Eduniversal World Convention

● What Is the Purpose/Objective?

- This methodology establishes a Global Mapping System that recognizes institutions' international reputation, as well as influence and quality.
- This methodology ensures Fair Global Mapping by comparing institutions horizontally; therefore, it will go by zone and by country, instead of the widely used vertical comparison method.
- This methodology proposes an Accurate Global Mapping of the best business schools all over the world thanks to an annually reviewed ranking.

● Which Methodology for this Best Business Schools Ranking?

STEP 1 The Official Selection of the Best Business Schools in 154 Countries

For the ranking of the Best 1,000 Business Schools in 154 countries, the Eduniversal Evaluation System firstly determines, from thousands of different institutions, which 1000 will be selected: the ISC then gathers data from thousands of schools worldwide and examines them to select 1,000 institutions.

The chosen institutions are grouped by country. The number of schools selected to take part in the ranking from each of the 154 countries is determined by a quota method using a combination of

- Quantitative criteria: national expenditure on education per habitant, GDP per inhabitant, population's size, number of students in Higher Education
- Qualitative criteria: number of graduates, number of academic institutions, historical importance of education, and higher education at national level

STEP 2 Palmes of Excellence League

In accordance to their national, local and international influence, reputation and quality, the chosen schools are then categorized into the Palmes of Excellence league. There are five leagues of Palmes d'Excellence (see p. 12).

The Palme level is awarded to each school based upon a set of internationalization criteria developed by the International Scientific Committee:

- Accreditations
- Major Rankings of Business Schools
- Memberships to National and International Academic and Professional Associations

STEP 3 Deans' Vote

Once the Palmes of Excellence classification has been established, institutions featured in the Official Selection are reviewed by their peers from the 1,000 Best Business Schools by way of an annual survey called the Deans' Vote. The Deans' Vote is the final metric used to determine an institution position inside its country and its Palmes' League.

The Deans' Vote is a peers' recommendation process, annually posted on www.eduniversal-deans-vote.com

● Focus: The Annual Eduniversal Deans' Vote Survey

www.eduniversal-deans-vote.com

The Deans' Vote is a unique criterion used in the Best Business Schools ranking methodology to determine the final rank of each schools in their own country as well as their own Palmes of Excellence League.

This survey's purpose is to add a peers' assessment component in the ranking, considering the personal expertise of the Deans and Directors of the 1,000 best Business Schools ranked by Eduniversal.

Every year, the Deans and Directors from the 1,000 Business Schools featured in the Eduniversal Official Selection are invited to confidentially submit their recommendations on behalf of their institution on the dedicated online platform: www.eduniversal-deans-vote.com.

One question is asked to them:
What Business Schools would you recommend to a student, staff or partner for a prospective mobility?

Voting Process

At the platform opening, Deans/Directors of the 1,000 ranked business schools receive their personal login details by email access to the year voting session

- The Dean/Director is the only person allowed to participate to the survey
- Except if he/she wants to delegate his/her right to vote to a member of his/her team, for example - to the International Relations Director
- In this case, the Dean/Director should request the delegation by email to the Eduniversal International Ranking Office; copying the person who will oversee the Deans' Vote survey.

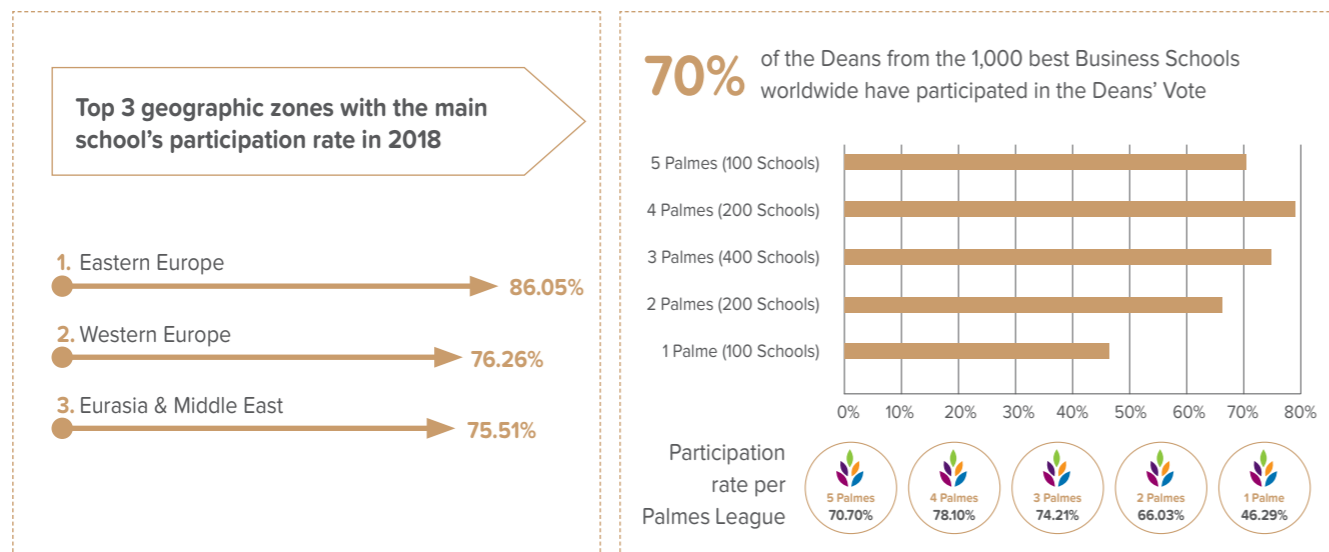

One Institution = One Vote

During the voting session

- Countries are organized in alphabetical order, and your country is listed at the end, after Zimbabwe
- All countries must be reviewed for the voting session to be validated.
- In each country, you can select up 50% of the ranked institutions proposed.
- And if you do not have recommendation for a country, you simply must tick the option « No, I don't have recommendation for this country » and you will be automatically directed to the next country on the list
- Please note that you cannot vote for your own institution, that is why your school will not appear in your country's proposals
